DETAILED ACTION

Summary

On December 17, 2004, an Office Action was mailed to the Applicant rejecting claims 1-38. On April 27, 2005, the Applicant responded by amending claims 1-2, 12, 14, 17-18, 25, 29, 34, and 38. Claims 31 and 34 are addressed in more detail below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-24 and 31-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Shaw (US 2003/0004859).

With regard to claims 31 and 34, Shaw discloses a method of electronically receiving data including confidential information regarding market participants, storing said received data regarding market participants, receiving an order-related query from a first market participant, based on the received data regarding market participants, calculating an estimate of a probability of execution if the order were routed to market participants based on the query, and electronically reporting the probability to the first market participant (p.8, 142 to 146 and p.9, 156-161); and electronically receiving data comprising an electronically executable order from a first market participant, electronically storing the received data in a database, electronically receiving from a second market participant data comprising one or more conditions on orders, searching the database for electronically executable orders to satisfy the conditions, electronically designating electronically executable orders found in the search as being reserved, the designated electronically executable orders comprising the electronically executable order received from the first market participant, and electronically routing the designated electronically executable orders to the second market participant (p.8, 142 to 146 and p.9, 156-161).

Art Unit: 3624

With regard to the amended claims, Shaw discloses routing the electronically executable order to the identified second market participant without revealing the first market participant's identity or other confidential information regarding the first market participant to the second market participant (p.1, 2—anonymous).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.

Art Unit: 3624

4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 25-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Shaw in view of Lupien (5,950,177), as set forth in the previous Office Action.
